Spirituality and Reflective Practice in Palliative Care

“An authentic spiritual life doesn’t offer endless consolation but accepts the place of suffering.” KATE ENGLEBRECHT

Spirituality is a fundamental element of human experience. It encompasses an individual's search for meaning and purpose in life and their experience of the transcendent.

In this forum on Spirituality and Reflective Practice, Kate Englebrecht will discuss spirituality in the context of caring for people at or near the end of their lives. Kate will also explore reflective practice for practitioners and how meaning is made or formed from our experiences of caring.

This forum aims to bring together palliative care staff and volunteers, pastoral care staff and volunteers and other interested health professionals. Members of the general public are most welcome.

There will be a volunteer workshop in the afternoon for palliative care volunteers.
